

PRESS RELEASE

2/17/10 Junction City, KS. The EyeDoctors, optometrists hosted a ceremonial groundbreaking to start construction of a new office at 6th and Eisenhower. The ground breaking was held on February 17th and was organized through the Junction City Chamber of Commerce. In attendance were Dr. Scott McClain, Dr. Gary Young, Dr. Christine Heptig, Dr. Nathan Kluttz, the mayor of Junction City Terry Helstabb, the general contractor of the project Rich Rothfuss of R&R Developers and multiple dignitaries from the city, in addition to family and staff of the Junction City EyeDoctors. “We are very excited to get this project underway and extremely proud to be a part of the Junction City business community. This new facility will allow us to provide unparalleled services for Junction City and the surrounding area.” Dr. McClain said. Projected completion is expected August 15th.

Photo courtesy of Junction City Daily Union