The EyeDoctors of Junction City ribbon cutting for new location

JUNCTION CITY, KAN-- The EyeDoctors in Junction City are pleased to announce the opening of their all new office at 1025 W. 6th Street with a ribbon cutting in association with the Junction City Chamber of Commerce. The ribbon cutting event was attended by the project manager for the new building, Dr. Brian Horsch as well as the builder Rich Rothfuss of R&R Developers, the architect and others associated with the building project. The Junction City mayor, Mike Rhodes and city commissioner Terry Helstabb also welcomed the new business along with dignitaries from the Chamber and community.

“We are so blessed and pleased to have this new facility to provide the most comprehensive eye care in the area. It is wonderful to feel so welcome in the community and we very much appreciate all the support we have received” said Dr. Scott McClain, the lead optometrist at the Junction City location.

The Junction City EyeDoctors have expanded their appointment availability and services with the addition of 3 new doctors and new office hours. Dr. Christina Heptig, Dr. Nathan Kluttz, Dr. Sally Irwin and Dr. McClain all see patients in Junction City. The new extended office hours are 8-5 Monday and Wednesday, 8-7 Tuesday and Thursday, 9-5 Friday and 8-12 Saturday.
